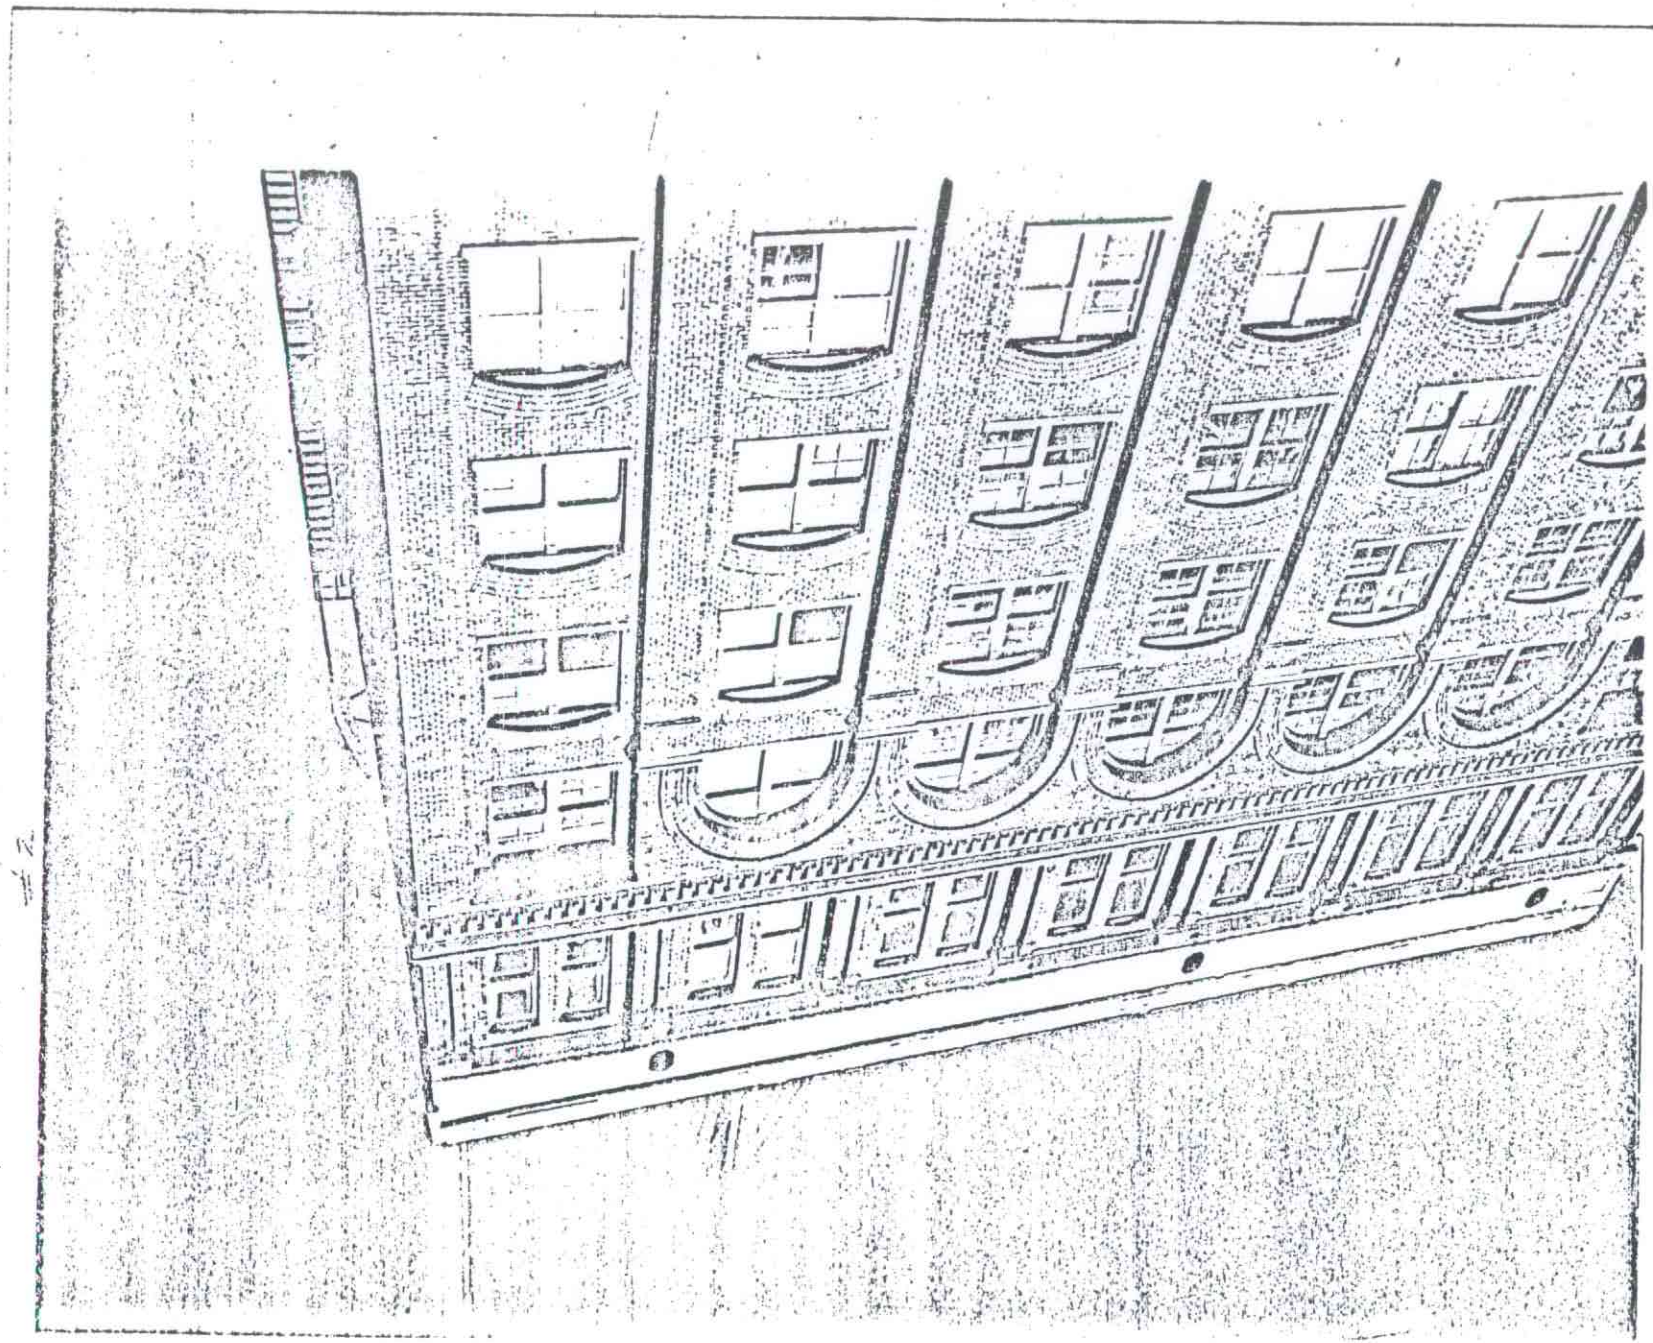
PHOTOGRAPH OF THE SOUTH FACE OF THE
TEXAS SCHOOL BOOK DEPOSITORY BUILDING
(Courtesy, Mr. Tom Dillard)

This photograph, according to the man who took it, was taken within a few seconds after the final shot. The window believed by the Warren Commission to have been the location from which the shots were fired is the partly open window on the extreme right of the floor below the top floor.


Note the many other open windows. (Some others off the left edge of the picture are also known to have been open at the time.) Measurements and calculations by the authors indicate that at least two shots were fired from locations substantially further west (leftward in the photograph) of the window specified by the Commission.
